Main activities of DLL

DLL supplies finance solutions to buyers of capital goods. To do so, it works together with manufacturers and distributors of these goods. We may offer and/or sell services and/or products directly, through these manufacturers and distributors or through other vendors ("DLL partner").

What does DLL consider as personal data processing?

This Notice concerns personal data processing. What do these words mean?

- Personal Data
Information that says something directly or indirectly about you is referred to as Personal Data. Examples include your name and address, and information such as your income.
Information relating to a sole trader, commercial partnership or professional partnership is also considered personal data.
Information relating to a legal entity is not personal data, but information relating to a legal entity's representative does count as personal data.
- Processing
Processing means anything that can be done with personal data. This includes the collection, storage, use, transfer and removal of data.

2. Why is Personal Data being processed by DLL?

The purposes for which DLL processes Personal Data are set out below.

a. In order to enter into a contract with you and to fulfil this contract

When entering into a contract with DLL, we need to process your Personal Data. For example, DLL needs to carry out an examination in order to assess whether DLL can accept you as a client. This assessment will include:

- Integrity check: When entering into a client relationship we consult available incidents registers and warning systems. We also check the national and international sanctions lists. As a financial institution, DLL has a legal obligation to perform such a check.

Verify identity: When entering into a client relationship, we must confirm your identity. We can do this by making a copy of your identity document so that we can identify you. We will use the copy of your identity document only for identification and verification. As a financial institution DLL has a legal obligation to verify your identity.

- Credit check: When entering into a client relationship we also assess whether you qualify from a financial perspective. We call this method credit-scoring and we can decide not to enter into an agreement with you if you do not meet our criteria. For this assessment we also involve third parties, such as credit reference agencies and use Personal Data collected by these agencies. Where we supply Personal Data to credit reference agencies in order to process your application, they will give us information about you, such as information about your financial history. We do this to assess creditworthiness and product suitability, check your identity, manage your account, trace and recover debts and prevent criminal activity. We will also continue to exchange information about you with credit reference agencies on an ongoing basis, including about your settled accounts and any debts not fully repaid on time. Credit reference agencies will share your information with other organisations. Your Personal Data will also be linked to the data of your spouse, any joint applicants or other financial associates. The identities of the credit reference agencies and the ways in which they use and share Personal Data are explained in more detail in the Credit Reference Agency Information Notice available at <http://www.experian.co.uk/crain/index.html>

DLL has a legitimate interest to avoid a situation in which its counterparts are unable to meet their financial obligations.

When we have entered into an agreement, in order to fulfil the contract we process Personal Data as set out below:

- Continuous integrity check: When you are our client, we will continue to consult the incidents registers and warning systems. We also check the national and international sanctions lists. As a financial institution DLL has a legal obligation to perform such a check.
- Information on product: We inform you about your lease agreement; for instance the remaining term of outstanding obligations or we will contact you to seek solutions if arrears should emerge.
- Services: To provide certain services that can be part of the financial agreement we involve third parties; for example, DLL partners.
- Intermediary services: As intermediary for another service provider we transfer Personal Data to be able to carry out our activities.
- Recordings: We can make recordings of telephone conversations, e-mail messages, camera images, and online chat sessions and video chat sessions, and may document these recordings. We may do this to monitor quality, to investigate fraud and for training and coaching purposes. DLL has a legitimate interest to uphold quality standards by training and coaching its employees and it is in the interest of DLL and its clients to take adequate measures against fraud.

b. To comply with legal obligations

- Providing data to the Government and regulators: We must, on the basis of certain (international) law and regulations collect, analyse and sometimes transfer Personal Data about you to (European) government authorities or supervisory authorities in the United Kingdom or abroad. For instance to the Financial Conduct Authority, the Financial Ombudsman Service and the Information Commissioner's Office.

We must observe regulations to be able to offer you financial services, such as the Consumer Credit Act 1974 and the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000. Furthermore we must observe regulations to prevent fraud and criminality, such as laws for preventing money laundering and financing terrorism including the Proceeds of Crime Act 2002, the Terrorism Act 2000, the Money Laundering Regulations 2017, the European Union Fourth Money Directive 2015 and the Counter-Terrorism Act 2008.

The tax authorities and court services and also, for instance, the intelligence services can request Personal Data from us. In that case we are legally obliged to cooperate with the investigation and pass on your Personal Data.

- Risk models: On the basis of European regulations we are obliged to make risk models that include your Personal Data. This allows us to determine the risks of DLL when financing you and the extent of the financial buffer we must hold. These risk models determine the chances that you will for instance get in arrears. Hereby we can for instance, in consultation with you, prevent possible payment difficulties or handle these quicker.

c. To ensure your security and integrity as well as the security and integrity of the financial sector

We process your Personal Data to ensure your security and ours, and also the security of the financial sector. We also do this for the purpose of preventing fraud, money laundering and the financing of terrorism. As a financial institution, DLL has a legal obligation to do so.

- Incident registers and warning systems: If you wish to become a client, or are already a client of ours, we will consult the incident registers and warning systems.
- Incident registers and warning systems from public authorities: Public authorities send us lists of individuals, which we have to enter in our warning registers. These are individuals with whom financial institutions must not do business, or to whom the financial sector must pay extra attention. We may consult the incident registers and warning systems, and we may also record your Personal Data in these registers. If we record information relating to you in these registers, we will notify you unless we are not allowed to do so, for example because the police ask us not to notify you in the interests of their investigation.
- Publicly accessible sources: We consult publicly accessible sources, such as public registers, newspapers and the internet, in an effort to combat fraud and protect DLL.

d. To help develop and improve products and services

In order that we can be of service to you and can innovate, we develop and improve products and services on an ongoing basis. We do this for ourselves, our corporate clients or other parties. Since both DLL and other benefit from such development and improvement, we have a legitimate interest to do so.

We also process Personal Data when analysing your visit to our website. We do this with the aim of improving our website. We use cookies and comparable technology for this.

We make recordings of telephone conversations, e-mail messages and online chat conversations for example, and may document these recordings. We do this in order to improve the quality of our services, for example by providing training to our employees. We may also do this in order to provide proof, to investigate fraud and other matters, and to train, coach and assess employees.

Analysing Personal Data allows us to see how you use our products and services. We also use the results of our analysis to categorise clients into groups. This enables us to create client profiles and interest profiles. When producing the analysis, we sometimes also use information obtained from other parties and publicly accessible sources.

We also carry out research in order to improve our products and services. For example, we may ask you to give your reaction to a product or to review a product. You are not required to cooperate in such studies. Sometimes we use other parties to process your Personal Data for this purpose; for example in order to measure or ask you how we can improve our services. In that case, these other parties act on the instructions of DLL.

e. For account management, promotional and marketing purposes

We process your Personal Data for account management, promotional and marketing purposes. In doing so, we use Personal Data we have obtained from you, such as your activity on our website, as well as information not obtained directly from you, including public registers (such as Companies House), publicly available sources (such as the internet) and other parties (such as DLL partners). DLL has a legitimate interest to extend the relation with you in order for you to use it to its maximum potential and inform and make you aware of the full scope of DLL's solutions within the boundaries of what is suitable for you.

We also use the services of advertisers in order to display advertisements to a specific target group. We indicate which target group or type of profile our advertisement is intended for. The advertiser then displays the advertisement to the people who are in the target group or fulfil the profile. We never share Personal Data relating to individual clients with such advertisers.

f. To enter into and perform agreements with vendor-partners, suppliers and other parties we work with

If you have contact with DLL in your capacity as a supplier, we may process your Personal Data, for example so that we can establish whether you are permitted to represent your business or facilitate a visit to our offices. Where necessary, for example in order to perform DLL partner due diligence, we may consult incident registers and warning systems before we enter into our agreement and also while the agreement is in effect, in the context of screening.

We supply finance solutions to our customers working together with our DLL partners, in many instances where our DLL partner has an existing relationship with you as our customer. We may transfer your Personal Data to the DLL partners that you have a relationship with, in connection with the financial product we provide you. For example, we may share your Personal Data with DLL partners in order to provide you with suitable products and services, monitor those products and services, and evaluate credit risk.

g. To carry out business processes, to obtain funding and for the purpose of management reports and internal management

To carry out business processes and for the purpose of management reports and internal management we process your Personal Data:

- Know your customer: We believe it is important and necessary that we have a good picture of our clients.
- Credit risk: Financial products involve credit risk. We have to determine what that risk is, so that we can calculate the financial buffer we need to maintain. In connection with this, we process Personal Data relating to your loans and credit facilities.
- Transfer of receivables/securitisation: To fund our provision of products and services to our customers, we may transfer all or some of our rights under our financial agreement with you as our customer to third parties which will provide (or are involved in providing) funding to us. If such a transfer takes place, your Personal Data will be processed by the entities participating in such funding arrangement in order that they may evaluate, monitor and administer such funding arrangements. For example, we will provide certain information about the financial agreement you have with us to third parties when we obtain funding through a securitisation so that they can evaluate, monitor and administer the pool of financial agreements with respect to which they are providing funding to us. Once the agreements have been transferred, the other party will also process your Personal Data and we will agree with the other party that it must comply with legislation and regulations on Personal Data protection. We also do this when financial agreement is taken over from us by another company.
- Merger: In the event of a merger or demerger of DLL, the legislation on protecting Personal Data will of course be followed.
- Internal audits and studies: We also use your Personal Data to perform internal audits and investigations. For example in order to examine how well new rules have been introduced or to identify risks.
- Improving our own business processes: We also use Personal Data to analyse and improve our business processes so that we can help you more effectively or make our processes more efficient. Where possible, we will anonymise or pseudonymise your Personal Data first.

DLL has a legitimate interest to categorise and establish risks that are inherent to its business, and accordingly take measures to minimize or transfer (part of) these risks and improve its business processes for the benefit of DLL and its clients. DLL has a legitimate interest to fund its business for the benefit of DLL and its clients.

h. For archiving purposes, scientific or historic research purposes or statistical purposes

We may also process your Personal Data if this is necessary for archiving purposes in the public interest, scientific or historic research purposes or statistical purposes. Where possible, we will anonymise or pseudonymise your Personal Data first.

Automated Processing

Automated tools may be used to process data about you but decisions with a negative outcome for you may not be based solely on the results provided by the automated tool. This restriction does not apply if:

- (i) the use of automated tools is necessary for the performance of a task carried out to comply with a legal obligation or sectorial recommendation to which DLL is subject, including the prevention of money laundering, financing of terrorism and other crimes, customer due diligence and the duty of care towards customers;
- (ii) the decision is made by DLL for purposes of (a) entering into or performing a contract or (b) managing the contract, provided the underlying request leading to a decision by DLL was made by you; or
- (iii) suitable measures are taken to safeguard your legitimate interests, e.g., you have been provided with an opportunity to express your point of view.

4. How does DLL collect your Personal Data?

The business of DLL is for a major part generated through the cooperation with DLL partners. As part of the cooperation between DLL and the DLL partners the Personal Data is collected by these partners from you and made available to DLL in order to facilitate DLL in processing such data for the purposes set out above. DLL also receives your Personal Data if you have provided this directly to DLL; for example if you have entered this on the DLL website with the request to contact you.

DLL is part of the DLL Group and the Rabobank Group and can therefore also receive your Personal Data from companies within the DLL Group and Rabobank Group (see also paragraph 6 (a) of this Notice). Also, DLL can receive your Personal Data from third parties, such as suppliers. Your Personal Data might then be sent to DLL because DLL cooperates with these third parties and/or you have given your consent to these third parties to share your Personal Data with DLL.

Where any goods or any asset is returned by you or recovered by DLL with any Personal Data stored on or in such goods or asset, you are required to remove all Personal Data from such goods or asset. Where you fail to do so DLL may delete the Personal Data (unless EU law or the laws of an EU Member State require storage of the Personal Data). DLL accepts no liability for any such deletion of Personal Data.

5. Legal basis for processing Personal Data

The purpose of processing is set out in paragraph 2 of this Notice. By law, every Personal Data processing operation must have a legal basis. We have mentioned the applicable legal grounds in paragraph 2. For the most important part, we process your Personal Data because we are under a legal obligation to do so. If, however, this legal obligation does not apply directly to DLL, we have a legitimate interest in processing your Personal Data for these purposes. We also process Personal Data where this is necessary to conclude the agreement.

We may also ask you for your consent to process your Personal Data for the purpose of developing and improving our products and services (see paragraph 2(d) of this Notice) or for account management, promotional and marketing purposes (see paragraph 2(e) of this Notice).

6. How long will DLL store Personal Data?

We do not store your Personal Data longer than we need it for the purposes for which we have collected it, or for the purposes for which we re-use the Personal Data. In United Kingdom, this will be in most cases 5 years after the end of the agreement or your relationship with DLL. Sometimes we use different storage periods. For example, if the supervisory authority in the context of risk models requires us to store certain Personal Data longer or if you have filed a complaint that makes it necessary to keep the underlying Personal Data longer.

If we no longer need the Personal Data for the purposes described in paragraph 2 of this Notice, we can still store the data for archiving, legal proceedings or for historical or scientific research or statistical purposes.

7. Does DLL transfer your Personal Data to third parties and to other countries outside the EU?

a. Within the Rabobank/DLL Group

DLL is part of the DLL Group and the Rabobank Group. If the law permits us, Personal Data can be exchanged within the DLL Group and the Rabobank Group, and most likely Coöperatieve Rabobank U.A.; for example, because your application for a financial product needs involvement of Coöperatieve Rabobank U.A. when it exceeds certain hurdles. We must, however, comply with the rules that we have agreed within the Rabobank Group, and as stated in the Binding Corporate Rules and the Rabobank Privacy Code. The Rabobank Privacy Code describes the requirements which all parts of the DLL Group must meet and guarantee an appropriate level of protection of Personal Data.

DLL or its affiliates in the DLL Group can also be located in countries outside of the European Union that have less strict privacy rules. If we share your Personal Data with parts of the DLL Group we will only do so in accordance with the Rabobank Privacy Code.

b. Outside the Rabobank/DLL Group

Your Personal Data is also transferred to third parties outside the Rabobank Group if we are legally obliged to do so, because we need to identify you before we enter into an agreement with you or because we use a third party for meeting the obligations we entered into with you.

We pass on your Personal Data to third parties if we are obliged to do so. For example to (European) supervisory authorities, such as the Financial Conduct Authority, the Financial Ombudsman Service, the Information Commissioner's Office or the tax authorities.

If you do not make payments on time, we also transfer your Personal Data to third parties that we need in the context of our services. For example, bailiffs and lawyers.

We may transfer all or some of our rights under our financial agreement with you to third parties which will provide (or are involved in providing) funding to. This is further explained in section 2.g. above.

In the event of a merger or demerger, the legislation on protecting Personal Data will of course be followed.

Sometimes we engage third parties for processing Personal Data for our purposes. For example, a DLL partner that provides services on our behalf under a lease contract entered into with DLL, or a printing company that provides a customer mailing for us that prints name and address details on envelopes, or parties that store data for us. These parties must first be deemed sufficiently reliable by us. We can only engage third parties if this fits the purposes for which we have processed your Personal Data. In addition, these third parties can only be involved by DLL if they enter into proper data processing agreements with us and will take appropriate security measures and guarantee confidentiality.

If we transfer your Personal Data to third parties outside the European Union, we take extra measures to protect your Personal Data. The same rules do not apply in all countries outside the European Union to protect your Personal Data as required within the European Union. We may use third parties outside the EU and the country where these third parties are located may not offer sufficient protection in the processing of Personal Data according to the European Commission. As such, we will only transfer Personal Data if there are other appropriate safeguards, such as contractual agreements approved by the European Commission or on the basis of the 'Privacy Shield' (United States of America).

8. How will DLL secure your Personal Data?

DLL is committed to making sure your Personal Data is secure. To prevent unauthorised access or disclosure, DLL has technical and organisational measures to safeguard and secure your Personal Data. All DLL personnel and third parties DLL engages to process your Personal Data are obliged to respect the confidentiality of your Personal Data and they have a duty of confidentiality.

9. Which rights can you exercise?

a. Right to access and rectification

You can ask us to access your Personal Data, after which we can grant you access to the Personal Data processed by us. Should you believe that your Personal Data has not been processed correctly or is incomplete, then you can ask us to rectify or supplement your Personal Data (rectification).

b. Right to erasure (right to be forgotten)

You can ask us to erase your Personal Data as recorded by us.

c. Right to restrict Personal Data

You can ask us to limit the Personal Data processed by us.

d. Right to data portability

You have the right to ask us to receive the Personal Data that you provided to us in connection with a contract with us or that was provided to DLL with your permission, in a structured and machine readable format or to transfer this Personal Data to a third party. Should you ask us to transfer Personal Data directly to a third party, then this can only be done if it is technically possible.

e. Right to object

You have the right to object if we process your Personal Data. For example if we process your Personal Data for direct marketing purposes (paragraph 2 (e) of this Notice) or if we record telephone conversations (paragraph 2 (d) of this Notice). If you object to this processing, we will determine whether your Personal Data can indeed no longer be used for those purposes. We can then decide to cease the processing of your Personal Data. We will inform you about our decision.

f. Right to withdraw consent

If you have given your consent to us for specific processing of your Personal Data, you can always withdraw your consent. We are then no longer allowed to process your Personal Data.

The requests for access, rectification, erasure, restriction, data portability, objection or a request to withdraw consent, can be sent to the DPO. For the DPO's contact details, please see paragraph 10 of this Notice.

DLL will respond within one month after DLL has received your request. In specific cases, DLL is able to extend this period to 2 months. In order to process your request DLL will request you to provide identification, for example in case of a request for access. DLL can also request you to further specify your request.

10. How to contact DLL in case of a request, question or complaint

For requests, questions or complaints with regard to the processing of Personal Data by DLL, you can contact the Data Protection Officer at privacyoffice@dllgroup.com

You can also contact the Information Commissioner's Office, if you have a complaint about the processing of Personal Data by DLL. Contact details of the Information Commissioner's Office are available at <https://ico.org.uk/>

11. Can this Privacy Statement be updated by DLL?

This Notice can be updated from time to time. For example in case of additional legal requirements or if Personal Data is being processed by DLL for new purposes. Please note that you can always find the latest version of this Notice on www.dllgroup.com
